

CAMP'S RULES TO REF BY

- 1) Always look like you are in control of your emotions. Never get too high or too low.
- 2) SELL the tough ones
- 3) Treat coaches and players with respect
- 4) Treat the table personnel with respect.
- 5) Realize that for that night you have ONE friend out there (TWO, if you're lucky) and he ain't on the bench.
- 6) Never underestimate communications with your partner.
- 7) Get the early "walks"
- 8) Get the early "charges"
- 9) Count "neatly"
- 10) Look like you enjoy being there even though you'd rather be watching Higgins on TV with a cold beer instead of in the gym you're in.
- 11) Always ref in cruise control
- 12) Correct EVERY clock mistake no matter how trivial it may seem at that moment.
- 13) Let'em know you're hustling BUT not in a hurry.
- 14) Get a good dead ball flow. Tell the players where you're going to inbound or to line up a foul shot.
- 15) Stay with the shooter!!!!
- 16) Don't leave the "jump ball pileup" too quickly to locate the arrow.
- 17) Watch players when the cross to go to benches during timeouts.
- 18) Get every timeout right.
- 19) When your partner calls a foul, position the ensuing throw-in so that he is away from the coaches' side.
- 20) Have fun...
